

Ms Angi Lamb

Angi Lamb was educated at Lenzie Academy and Madras College, and has an MSc in Industrial Programming Technology from the University of Sheffield (1988).

She has worked in four universities (St. Andrews, York, UCL, Edinburgh) in a variety of roles from research associate to IT Consultant before retiring in 2017. She has an interest in metrics and evidence-based service improvement.

Angi was active within the University and College Union (UCU) at local and national level from 2000-2015 with a focus on progressive industrial relations policies such as active workforce engagement and partnership working.

In 2013 Angi was elected by non-teaching staff to serve for four years as a staff assessor on University Court.

Angi enjoys travelling with her partner Gordon, growing vegetables, family and local history, experimenting with colour and form, and a new found interest in kayaking.
