

Revised Information: Academic Session 2011/12, Semester 2, Examination Diet

In response to concerns raised by students, the period over which honours examinations are to be held during the 2011/12 Semester 2 examination diet has been revised by the University.

Honours exams will now be scheduled within the 4 week period of the exam diet and not confined to the first 3 weeks of the diet, as was previously announced.

The University recognises the issues expressed by students and has amended the plan for the examination diet and subsequent processes accordingly. The University has also committed additional resource in order to ensure the assessment and graduation processes remain as robust as possible within the further constricted timeframe resulting from reducing the period between Honours exams and graduations.

The key dates are as follows:

- . Semester 2 Examination timetable published: Monday 19 March 2012
 - . End of Semester 2 Teaching: Friday 06 April 2012
 - . Spring Vacation: Monday 09 April 2012 to Friday 20 April 2012
 - . Revision Week: Monday 23 April 2012 to Friday 27 April 2012
 - . Semester 2 Examination diet: Monday 30 April 2012 to Saturday 26 May 2012.
- All examinations (including honours exams) will be scheduled within these 4 weeks of the exam diet. The examination diet included Saturdays.

 - . Resit Examination Timetable published: Monday 15 July 2012
