

Claire Sarafilovic, Governance Apprentice Programme 2025

Claire Sarafilovic is a Director at AtkinsRéalis, where she leads significant national programmes focused on capital investments in the built environment. With a robust background in programme management, Claire has successfully overseen multidisciplinary teams to deliver major projects across various sectors, including corporate real estate, retail, banking, and hospitality. She is passionate about creating sustainable and inclusive spaces for our communities through her work.

In addition Claire serves as the Head of Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) for the UK and Ireland division of Project and Programme Services, AtkinsRéalis. In this role, she is committed to fostering an inclusive workplace culture that champions equity and diversity. Her leadership in EDI initiatives has positioned her as a change agent within the organisation and the broader industry, including winning Property Week's EDI team of the year 2024.

Claire is currently undertaking an Executive MBA at the University of Edinburgh, and is an alumnus of the University of St Andrews, graduating in 2003 with an MA (Hons) International Relations and Management. She is also a Chartered Management Consultant and a certified practitioner in Managing Successful Programmes (MSP).
