

Ruth Elliott

As the Edinburgh University Students' Association's Vice President Community, Ruth's remit includes housing, sustainability, and students' engagement with the wider Edinburgh community.

This year in her Students' Association role, Ruth's focus will be on addressing the student housing crisis, through both proactive resource provision, and lobbying the City Council and Scottish Government to tackle the issue. She will also be working on the provision of affordable and nutritious hot food on campus, supporting students during the cost-of-living crisis, and empowering students working on projects focused on sustainability and climate resilience.

Ruth took up the role of VP Community having completed her Undergraduate degree in Politics, achieving a 2:1 classification. Her dissertation focused on the experience of politically apathetic and socially disadvantaged young people, and she has also conducted research on political behaviour, and party membership.
